Application form for Load Facility Registration

including explanatory notes

IMPORTANT: Please read this carefully before completing this form. Italicised words and expressions used herein (but not otherwise defined herein) shall have the same meanings respectively ascribed to them in the Singapore Electricity Market Rules.

Why do you need to complete this form?

Under the market rules, if you are not a market support services licensee, you are not permitted to participate in the real-time markets or to cause or permit any physical service to be conveyed into, through or out of the transmission system unless you have been registered by the EMC as a market participant, and your facility to or from which the physical service is to be so conveyed has been registered by the EMC in accordance with the market rules.

The EMC is licensed by the Energy Market Authority (the “Authority”) to operate the wholesale electricity markets (to which the real-time markets form a part) in Singapore. One of the EMC’s responsibilities is to manage the registration of facilities in the wholesale electricity markets. You must complete and submit this form to apply to have a facility registered by the EMC if you wish to participate in the real-time markets or to convey any physical services into, through or out of the transmission system from a load facility and that facility is required or permitted to be registered under the market rules.

Why did EMC develop this form?

The EMC has developed this form for applicants to apply for the relevant facility registration described in the market rules. You should read the relevant sections of the market rules prior to completing this form. Please also read the EMC’s disclaimer at the end of this form.

Who is eligible to apply for registration?

You must be registered as a market participant before you are eligible to apply for registration of your facilities.

However, if you are only granted conditional registration as a market participant, you may also apply for registration of your facilities, but your facilities will not be registered unless you become registered as a market participant within the relevant conditional registration deadline.

What type of load facility is eligible for registration?

Any type of load facility which is capable of providing any class of reserve to, and/or which is capable of being scheduled for energy withdrawal (for the purposes of load curtailment) from, the real-time markets in accordance with the market rules, the market manuals and the system operation manual is eligible to apply.

What type of reserve can you offer?

You can offer primary reserve and contingency reserve from your load facility.

How is reserve scheduled for your load facility activated?

For primary reserve, your load facility will be automatically interrupted by devices such as Under Frequency Relay (UFR), when the system frequency drops below the pre-set frequency for the pre-defined duration (if any) as specified in the system operation manual.

For contingency reserve, the PSO will advise the dispatch coordinator of your facility to interrupt your load facility. The dispatch coordinator must reduce the load of your facility by the amount of contingency reserve scheduled within 10 minutes of the instruction being given by the PSO.

When can you restore your load after interruption?

If your load facility is issued a dispatch instruction for reserve and interrupts or decreases its load under the market rules, the market manuals or the system operation manual, its load shall not be restored until and unless directed or permitted by the PSO. As indicated in the system operation manual, such direction or permission is expected to be typically given within 30 minutes of the load interruption or decrease.

What must you do to be scheduled for energy withdrawal for the purposes of load curtailment?

You need to submit restricted energy bids stating the quantity of load that your load facility commits to be subject to dispatch by the PSO, which is the amount of load which your load facility can commit to be curtailed, and the corresponding prices at or above which you are willing to do so.

When will you know the outcome of your application?

The EMC will notify you in writing of the outcome within 30 business days of the EMC being satisfied that your application meets all the requirements for load facility registration under the market rules, the applicable market manuals and the system operation manual. If your application is declined, the notification will identify why this was the case. A duly and accurately completed form will expedite the EMC's processing of your application.

What should you do if you have more than one facility to register?

Please fill in a separate form for each application for registration of a load registered facility. You can download additional copies of the form from the EMC website at www.emcsg.com.

Is there an application fee for your application to register your facility?

There is no application fee payable for your application to register your facility.

Request for Transfer of Registration of Load Registered Facility

including explanatory notes

IMPORTANT: Please read this carefully before completing this form. Italicised words and expressions used herein (but not otherwise defined herein) shall have the same meanings respectively ascribed to them in the Singapore Electricity Market Rules.

Why do you need to complete this form?

The EMC is licensed by the Energy Market Authority (“Authority”) to operate the wholesale electricity markets (to which the real-time markets form a part) in Singapore. One of the EMC’s responsibilities is to manage the registration of facilities in the wholesale electricity markets, including the transfer of registration of load registered facilities. You must complete and file this form with the EMC to request to have the registration of your load registered facility transferred to another market participant.

Why did EMC develop this form?

The EMC has developed this form to facilitate the transfer process described in the market rules. You should read the relevant sections of the market rules prior to completing this form. Please also read the EMC’s disclaimer at the end of this form.

Who is eligible to request for transfer of registration of a load registered facility?

The market participant whose registration of its load registered facility is to be transferred (the “transferor”), may, after this form is duly completed, file this form with the EMC to request to transfer the registration of that load registered facility.

Who is eligible to be identified as a proposed transferee in a request for transfer of registration of a load registered facility?

A person who is an existing market participant or a participation applicant is eligible to be identified as a proposed transferee in this form if:

- it is willing and able to assume, and will assume, control of the load registered facility with effect on and from the effective date of transfer of registration of the *load registered facility*¹;
- where it is an existing market participant, it is not a suspended market participant; and
- where it is a participation applicant, it is, to the EMC’s satisfaction, likely to be able to meet, on or before the proposed date of transfer of registration, all the requirements to be registered by the EMC as a market participant.

What type of load registered facility is eligible for transfer of registration?

The registration of any type of load registered facility is eligible for transfer, if after the transfer of registration to the proposed transferee:

- the load registered facility remains capable of meeting all relevant technical requirements set forth in the market rules, any applicable market manual or the system operation manual; and
- the proposed transferee is able to perform all the functions and obligations applicable to it under the market rules, the market manuals and the system operation manual in respect of the load registered facility.

When must you file this form with the EMC?

Under the market rules, you must file a request for transfer of registration with the EMC at least 10 business days before the proposed date of transfer of registration. Please be reminded that the market rules also require you to provide a copy of this form to the transmission licensee and the PSO at the same time.

When will the transfer of registration be effective?

The transfer of registration of your load registered facility will take effect on the effective date of transfer of registration, which is the later of, the proposed date of transfer of the registration (as specified in the request made via this form), or the 10th business day from when the EMC is satisfied that the request satisfies all the requirements of section 6.2.1 of Chapter 2 of the market rules and all the requirements of this market manual. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the EMC may agree with you and the proposed transferee to effect the transfer of registration of your load registered facility on a different date, in which case 'effective date of transfer of registration' shall mean such agreed date.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the EMC's transfer of registration of your load registered facility shall be subject to the EMC being satisfied, on the effective date of transfer of registration of the load registered facility, that the following conditions are satisfied:

- the proposed transferee is a market participant and is not a suspended market participant; and
- the proposed transferee holds (or is exempt from holding) a valid and relevant electricity licence permitting its participation in the wholesale electricity markets and its causing or permitting any relevant physical service to be conveyed into, through or out of the transmission system, to or from the load registered facility.

The EMC will notify you and the proposed transferee in writing of the outcome of your request. If your request is declined, the notification will identify why this was the case. A duly and accurately completed form will expedite the EMC's processing of your request for transfer of registration.

It is strongly recommended that you do not change any current information relating to the load registered facility which registration is to be transferred, except where permitted or required by sections C, D and E of this form. Doing so might require the load registered facility to be retested and would delay the approval of the request for transfer of registration.

What should you do if you wish to transfer the registration of more than one load registered facility?

Please fill in a separate form for each load registered facility which registration is requested to be transferred. You can download additional copies of the form from the EMC website at www.emcsg.com.

Is there an application fee for your request to transfer your load registered facility?
